Dear Zahava:

August 3, 2004

The Ontario SPCA has been protecting animals in the Parry Sound Region since 1973. Not only has the branch cared for and placed thousands of abandoned and abused animals every year, our Inspectors and Agents have performed the difficult job of responding to hundreds of cruelty complaints on a daily basis. The Ontario SPCA is a non-profit charitable organization that does not receive federal or provincial government funding for animals care, but relies entirely on the generosity of the public and corporate sectors.

Because of you and your care for animals, we were able to raise enough money to make a difference. The staff and the animals at the Parry Sound Branch Thanks you for your generosity. The money raised from the events goes to shelter repairs, proper health care, food and so much more. Thanks again for your caring contribution towards our live auction. It sounds like you will be visiting the Parry Sound area in the near future so let us welcome you as you have welcomed us.

Sincerely,

The Staff at the OSPCA Parry Sound Branch.
